January 2006 Membership Luncheon Program

Wednesday, January 11, 2006

11:30 am - 2:00 pm

Facility Security and Emergency Planning for Commercial Buildings

Evacuation Planning, Avian Flu Pandemic, Terrorism Response...

These are all issues that you must contend with on a daily basis. Sal Lifrieri, former Director of Security and Intelligence Operations for New York City's Office of Emergency Management during the Giuliani administration will talk about our planning concerns facing us daily. Topics include: developing proper responses consistent to the threat without breaking the budget; separating fact from fiction regarding threat warnings; and, ensuring your vendors have the credentials to perform. All are covered in this fast paced lecture. A question and answer session will follow the presentation.

Mr. Lifrieri served as the Director of Security and Intelligence Operations for Mayor Rudolph Giuliani's Office of Emergency Management (January 1996 to January 2001). In this role, he was responsible for the management of security, intelligence and counter surveillance operations for New York City. This included:

- Crisis and contingency planning for the city and some of its larger corporate residents;
- Risk assessment and crisis/consequence planning for the city's key buildings and critical infrastructure;
- Coordination of intelligence and anti-terrorism operations with city, state, federal and international agencies/countries;
- Design and construction of New York City's Emergency Operations Center.

While the Director of Security and Intelligence Operations, Sal was appointed the leader of a joint federal/state law enforcement committee on Executive Protection. The committee was responsible for developing protocol and Standard Operating Procedures to protect senior government officials in the event of a chemical or biological weapons attack.

From 1994 to 1996, Mr. Lifrieri was a member of New York City's prestigious Municipal Security Section where he headed the Protective Operations Unit, responsible for protecting critical NYC infrastructure and key public buildings. He designed and personally oversaw the implementation of all security upgrades.
