

Some Important Questions to Consider:

- Have you ever wondered what characteristics a terrorist exhibits?
- Are you fully aware of your work environment?
- Do you know what to do if you spot someone who you think may pose a threat to your home or workplace?

Protective Countermeasures has a full offering of education and training programs designed specifically for employees, security forces, managers and supervisors, and first responders. Our goal is to provide awareness for all, to both complement existing security forces and devices, and to build confidence in employees and supervisors in their ability to identify and deal with potential incidents. In today's world, we must all participate in our Homeland Security.

Employee Awareness Programs

Our education programs are modular and can be tailored to fit your specific needs. We offer one and two-day programs and our instructional techniques range from presentations to practical exercises. We are particularly adept at executive-level education. Some of our most popular courses are:

- Situational Awareness
- Leadership and Management During Crises
- Predictive Behavior Recognition
- Threat Assessment

Protective Countermeasures also provides tactical level training to governmental and private agencies in support of national homeland security initiatives. Our tactical training team works hand-in-hand with federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies to provide training programs that enhance security preparedness. Our team can provide tailored training in the areas of:

- Predictive Behavior Recognition
- Surveillance and Counter Surveillance
- Situational Awareness and Team Building Exercise
- Counter Surveillance Practical Exercise
